

Jesus is Born, The True Story – Christmas According to Kids

If there's someone who doesn't know the story about Christmas and the birth of Jesus, perhaps it's because he was only born yesterday. Literally. Or at least in the past year, and he's still discovering his toes.

While most know about Christmas, how many know the true story?

I thought I did until I watched this video. The kids in this hilarious video set the story straight. And apparently, it involves a purple stuffed hippo.

(If you're reading this on email, you have to go to my blog to see the video. Click "Read More.")

I love this version of the Christmas story, but, I'm pretty sure the wise men didn't really bring Jesus gold,

Frankenstein, and myrrh – and definitely not a stuffed hippo.

But they got one thing completely right. The new baby changed the world.

He changed me, too, and for that, I'm eternally grateful.

Merry Christmas!

Jesus is Born. Watch the so-called true story in this hilarious video #Christmas According to Kids. #thatsfunny Click To Tweet